DYSPEPSIA.
IS that misery experienced when we suddenly become aware that we possess a diabolical arrangement called a stomach. The stomach is the reservoir from which every fibre and tissue must be nourished, and any trouble with it is soon felt throughout the whole system. Among a dozen dyspeptics no two will have the same predominant symptoms. Dyspeptics of active mental power and a bilious temperament are subject to Sick Headaches; those, fleshy and phlegmatic have Constipation, while the thin and nervous are abandoned to gloomy forebodings. Some dyspeptics are wonderfully forgetful; others have great irritability of temper.
Whatever form Dyspepsia may take, one thing is certain,
The underlying cause is in the LIVER, and one thing more is equally certain, no one will remain a dyspeptic who will

It will correct Acidity of the Stomach, Expel foul gases, Allay Irritation, Assist Digestion, and, at the same time
Start the Liver to working, when all other troubles soon disappear.

"My wife was a confirmed dyspeptic. Some three years ago by the advice of Dr. Steiner, of Augusta, she was induced to try Simmons Liver Regulator. I feel grateful for the relief it has given her, and may all who read this and are afflicted in any way, whether chronic or otherwise, use Simmons Liver Regulator and I feel confident health will be restored to all who will be advised."—WM. PIANOS.
GAINED FIRST PREMIUM FOR GREATEST merit at the New Orleans Cotton Centennial and WORLE'S Exposition for refined and wonderful power of tone, elegance of design, and superb finish. Only piano endorsed by United States commissioners, from each of the States. Cases finest carved, rosewood finish - finest imported double repeating action—three strings throughout of best patent steel wire—keys best ivory. Our new patent steel tuning device, instead of wood, is the greatest invention ever made in pianos. It consists of stationary STEEL tuning pins that are set in a mold and molten STEEL is run round the pins keeping them solidly in place. A thimble or shell pin is made to exactly fit the stationary pin revolving therein; thus the strings wind round the pins. After the strings are properly stretched the piano can never get out of tune, the rest plank being of STEEL not affected by extremes of climate. This will be appreciated by all musicians in city or country. It will stand twenty years without tuning and is good for 100. No other piano has this improvement.
Great strength and durability is another advantage. In other pianos holes are bored in wooden boards and tuning pins inserted. The pins turn round in this board and cannot stand permanently in tune, and it often cracks, splits, dries out, becoming utterly, totally and entirely worthless as a musical instrument. Our STEEL tuning device is in no way affected by such casualities, and the sounding board is so constructed that our pianos can never become thin or metallic in tone. They are always in tune and the expense of tunning is saved. This patent alone is worth millions and makes our piano the greatest in the world. Prices are no higher than other pianos. Buying direct from us, the largest manufacturers, you save $100 or $200—dealers' profits. Don't mind the ominous growlings of dealers and agents, who see their chances of selling a poor piano at a big profit of $200—slipping away—pity them.
We guarantee our pianos ten years. 200 styles. We have put our prices at lowest bed-rock for Cash.
A $600 Piano for $259.50; a $900 Piano for $297.50; a $1200 Piano for $375.50; a $1500 Piano for $475.50.
Upright Cabinet Grands, with stool and rubber cover shipped on board cars at S. F., to any part of the United States, Canada or Mexico. Our terms are cash with order. If not as represented money returned. We occasionally have good second-hand pianos, made over at $100 to $300, which we take in part payment for our own. Write or call for catalogue, free.

BURMESE ELEPHANTS.

NOT SO COURAGEOUS AN ANIMAL AS IS GENERALLY SUPPOSED.

How the Mahout Takes Advantage of His Beast's Sagacity—An Elephant's Caution When Crossing a Bridge—Nervous About a New Departure.

The elephant holds the first rank among beasts for size, strength and intelligence, although he is not by any means so courageous an animal as is generally supposed. He won't fight unless he cannot get out of a scrape by any other means. He will, when traveling with a band of humans in a forest, start at any noise in the jungle, and if not soothed by his mahout, is ready to bolt into the forest, quite careless about those who are mounted upon his capacious back. Perhaps this trait in his character is not want of courage, but merely nervousness. They are the general beast of burden in the country, and the government departments have a number of them in their charge. Each elephant has his name, and it is interesting to watch them at work. Their mahouts often take advantage of their sagacity and so save themselves trouble.

I saw an instance of this up the country. The telegraph follows the advance of the troops to secure rapid communication with the rear. So a line was formed as the country was occupied. First a track was made by felling all timber and clearing off any undergrowth, etc., to about twenty feet in width, hundreds of men being employed. Such trees as were suitable in length and otherwise were trimmed into the required shape for telegraph poles; a number of them being piled at intervals along the track. Then the elephants were sent to carry the poles to the distances they were to be set apart. I saw one mahout conduct his elephant to a pile of these heavy poles and tell the intelligent animal to pick one up; he then with a long wand he had for the purpose measured off the distance and accompanied the elephant, who carried the pole to the place the mahout indicated. Then I saw the mahout tell the elephant to go to the pile and place them in line along the track, at the same distance apart as the one he had measured. The man then lay down under a tree and went to sleep.

In the meantime the noble animal took up each piece of timber and carried it to its proper place in the line. I felt so interested that I stayed to witness the whole proceeding. I measured the distances by pacing and found them all to be equal in length and correctly placed like the first one. The beast then went to his mahout and gently touched him with the tip of his trunk and awoke him, as much as to say, "All is finished, master, according to your orders." The mahout awoke, mounted the elephant and went forward to continue the line in the same easy and agreeable manner.

I often watched an elephant's motions before he would cross a native bridge over a river. He is most cautious, puts one foot down gently and presses on the planks to see that all is safe and firm before he will venture upon them. When perfectly satisfied of the safety of the structure, and not until then, he will walk over to the other side. Other elephants who may be in company will stop and attentively watch the proceedings of the leader. When all is right they follow him without hesitation. They are not without warrant for their caution, for these native bridges are often very rickety structures, and I saw many of them come to grief during my experience of them. Elephants are sometimes described as running, but it is contrary to their habits to do so, they invariably walk. The only time I know of their going at a faster rate is when a wild elephant is hard pressed by shekarries. Especially if slightly wounded, he will suddenly turn and rush at his assailants, select one and try to catch him. This is termed charging. Should he reach the unfortunate hunter the elephant would seize him around the body with his flexible trunk, whirl him to the earth, and tread him into a bloody mass of flesh.

I have mentioned the nervousness of these animals. An instance was shown in the difficulty found in making them draw a light wagon. It was considered that in a level country a bandy, i. e., native cart, holding a quantity of stores, etc., in addition to a moderate load on the beast's back, would save transport, and that more could be carried than by merely heavily loading the animals. The bandy in Burmah is always drawn by the long horned tame buffaloes or the fine oxen of the country. So a trial was made to see if the elephants would take favorably to this new departure in the order of things. A special wooden cart was constructed, strongly built, with long bamboo shafts and a capacious body and primitive, solid wooden wheels. One of the most docile and best natured elephants was selected for the trial. The cart was brought up to him, the mahout meantime fondling and coaxing him and calling him pet names, at first with no promising result. He at length permitted the rope harness to be adjusted to his huge person, appearing very much astonished and foolish all the time. He kept swinging his trunk about, and could scarcely be held quiet and in proper position. At last all was fixed, some heavy stones being placed in the cart as ballast. The mahout tried to coax him to go forward, but he would take a few steps only and then suddenly turn off to the right or left, trying to reach the cart with his trunk. He did not like the rumble of it at his tail, which latter appendage he kept down close to his body like a frightened canine.

At length, by dint of praising him and kind treatment, he dragged the cart a few paces onward. As this was thought enough for one day he was released. Every day for about a week he was "put through his paces" until he was pretty perfect, and made no objection to having the bandy harnessed to him nor to drag the cart whenever wanted. Then all the elephants were brought out to witness the performance. They looked critically at their brother in harness, walked around the concern and felt it with their trunks. When he started to travel with the bandy creaking behind him they seemed a trifle startled, but after a while appeared reconciled to the look of the thing. After this exhibition little difficulty was experienced in inducing the rest of the government elephants to draw the special bandies when it was requisite to do so. They had seen how the thing worked with one of themselves, and therefore accepted the situation as a matter of course.—Charles Aubrey's Burmah Letter in San Francisco Chronicle.

The female half breeds of Spanish and Indian blood in Yucatan are said to be by far the handsomest people in that country. They are described as a gentle, docile, pleasure loving race, not altogether lazy, perfectly honest and remarkably cleanly in their habits.—Chicago Herald.

A Writer of Obituary Poetry.

One of the very queerest ways of earning a living among the endless eccentricities of ingenious necessity in this city is that of a woman who lives in a little flat on Nineteenth street, and who writes obituary poetry, thereby avoiding the necessity of an obituary for her own tomb stone. She is a genial person on ordinary occasions and possesses a notable facility for rhymes. When she is interviewing customers this geniality subsides into a delicate and dramatic sympathy which is very soothing to the bereaved. She says of herself: "You see, I am not a poet. The newspapers and magazines won't buy my poetry, and I don't wonder at it, but at the same time I have a genius for rhymes. I have found rhymes for window and silver even—the two unrhymable words—and quick as a flash I can find a word in assonance with any name, Christian or surname. I am a lightning rhymer, in short. I can make verses, too, of a certain sort with the same facility, and happily the people who come to see me don't demand poetry up to the level of 'In Memoriam,' and 'Lycidas.' There's my 'Hood's Rhymster,' Roget's 'Thesaurus' and Crabbe's 'Synonyms.' They are my tools, and by their aid I make a living.

"The most curious people come to me, all the way from an afflicted washerwoman lamenting the late bibulous Patrick to old gentlemen who have lost their grandchildren. Bereavement, like love, seems to loosen the intellectual fiber, and when people are in the first throes of grief they find comfort in the strangest things. They like my verses more than you would believe possible, and make me read them over again and again, the feeble lyrics and halting lines evidently soothing them more than volumes of the most eloquent prose. My prices? Oh! they are in a sliding scale. For celebrating the marital virtues of the late Mr. O'Donovan in six four line stanzas I charge $3, but as I rise in the social scale, and the measure used is more complex, why I ask all the way from $5 to $25. On one occasion I asked and was paid $50 for a memorial ode to the dead bride of a sorrowing widower. It was something like two hundred lines, and if I do say it myself, it was very nice poetry and fully worth the money. The widower is married again, but he didn't seem to think any epithalamium was required, or at least I wasn't asked to write it. Poetry about dead children is the sort oftenest asked for, and yet I don't like to write it because I really throw more feeling into it than any other. Over some of my best ones I've wept myself. But mothers will take anything. They don't seem to know whether it's good or bad."—New York World.

Modern Costumes in Greece.

The rich old costumes are coming, or have come, to be regarded as ridiculous by the islanders, and are only put on to please strangers or by way of a joke. In another generation or two the curious traveler will be unable to find them. Those that have gold and lace upon them will be bought up by Jew dealers, who have been for years scouring the Ægean like the corsairs of old. The rest will be torn up or thrown away. It is just the same thing in Peloponnesus. The men who are the great dandies all through Greece still don their Albanian costumes in Sparta and Magnesopolis, if they have not seen the world. But among the rich scarlet and white of this splendid dress you see the really fashionable man, the member of parliament or local magistrate, in a black dress coat and a chimney pot hat, perhaps with a gray plaid wrapped about his shoulders. And this hideously dressed person is looked up to as the glass of fashion by the people around him, whose national dress gives them that dignity of mien and of manners which always accompanies a rich costume.

So it is with the women. About Mount Parnassus and its neighboring Alps you will still find the women dressed on holidays in colors and coins quaint and beautiful to behold. In Peloponnesus gaudy arsenic green, magenta and purples of the most nauseous hue are worn in ill made dresses copied from the Bavarian court taste of twenty years ago. To see such people on a Greek island in the midst of Mediterranean blue dancing a national dance with its curious spiral form is like seeing a beautiful engraving daubed over with water colors by an experimenting child.—Good Words.

Opium Cultivation in Persia.

Opium occupies the first place in the foreign trade of Persia. Papaver somniferum, or white poppy, of which opium is the inspissated juice, is grown principally in and about Ispahan, Yezd and Shiraz, that of Ispahan being superior both in quality and quantity. The preparation of the land begins about Sept. 5, and consists in plowing, harrowing, fertilizing abundantly with ashes and detritus, and laying off into squares to facilitate irrigation. After sowing, the fields are irrigated three times, at intervals of fifteen days. After that there is only one more irrigation, about the middle of the winter. In the spring irrigation takes place on March 20, after which the land is repeatedly harrowed and hoed in order to extirpate all parasitic weeds. The plants are thinned and then watered every ten days until flowering begins, when all work must cease.

When the heads have formed and have fully ripened a last flooding is given. Then six slight incisions are made at about the junction of the stem with the head. This should be done at noon. The juice that exudes is collected the next morning and the morning following at daybreak. When these first incisions have ceased discharging, others are made lower down, and the operation may be thus thrice repeated, the opium obtained after each successive incision being proportionately inferior in quality. Next, the plants themselves are cut down and the heads sold, the natives using the seed on bread as a substitute for butter. The end of May is the season for harvesting.—Chemist and Druggist.

Steamers Plying on the Volga.

The average American will be astonished to learn that the number of steamers plying on the Volga and its tributaries is greater than the number on the Mississippi; that $15,000,000 worth of products annually come down a single tributary of the Volga—namely, the Kama, a stream of which few Americans have ever heard; and finally, that the waters of the Volga river system annually float nearly 5,000,000 tons of merchandise, and furnish employment to 7,000 vessels and nearly 200,000 boatmen. It may be that an ordinarily well educated American ought to know all these things, but I certainly did not know them, and they came to me with the shock of a complete surprise.—George Kennan in The Century.

In Baltimore it is proposed to put letter boxes on the street cars. This will bring a letter to the postoffice from any part of the city in half an hour.

Japan's Feast of Dolls.

A peculiarity of Japanese stores is that only such goods are displayed as are appropriate to the season of approaching festival. Instead of displaying a general stock of goods, as do all dealers in America throughout the year, as soon as the festival season is over they are immediately packed up and carefully laid away for another year. For two weeks a great number of stores and street peddlers have been exhibiting a great display of all kinds and sizes of dolls, together with everything thereunto belonging in miniature. The reason for all this is that on the third day of the third month is held the "Hina Matsuri," or, as it is generally called, the "Feast of Dolls." It is devoted to the girls, and is considered by them the greatest day of the season, and in years gone by was duly celebrated by all families with as great pomp, ceremony and preparation as we look forward to the 4th of July. Of late years those that are called "progressive" Japanese seem to have ignored the custom to a great extent.

Most of the dolls on view were from three inches to eighteen inches in height, and dressed to represent some noted daimio, shogun or some prominent personage of the feudal times. Many still keep up the custom, and many of the old families possess a stock of heirlooms in the way of dolls that date back many years. Formerly it was the custom that when a daughter had been born in the house during the previous year, a pair of images are bought for her, which she plays with until she is grown. When she marries she takes them with her to her new home and gives them to her children, and each year she adds to the stock as her family increases, so in some families a great number are collected. They are made of wood, clay, porcelain, and some are most exquisitely dressed. In all the stores are found complete sets of everything belonging to the house, either for cooking, eating, sleeping or traveling. On the festival day all these are brought out and arranged upon an elevated platform, and offerings of saki, rice, candies and fruits are made to each, and all phases of female life are most faithfully mimicked by these female juveniles.—San Francisco Examiner.

Riding on the Backs of Birds.

A German author, Adolf Ebeling, writing in The Gartenlaube, asserts that he found it currently believed at Cairo that wagtails and other small birds cross from Europe to Nubia and Abyssinia on the backs of storks and cranes, and details the result of conversations which he had with several witnesses, all testifying the same thing. He then proceeds: "At supper, in the Hotel du Nile, I related the curious story to all present, but, naturally enough, found only unbelieving ears. The only one who did not laugh was the Privy Councilor Von Heuglin, the famous African traveler, and excepting Brehm, the most celebrated authority of our time on the birds of Africa." On asking his opinion he remarked: "Let others laugh; they know nothing about it. I do not laugh, for the thing is well known to me. I should have made mention of it in my works if I had had any personal proof to justify it. I consider the case probable, though I cannot give any warrant for it."

"My discovery, if I may so call it," continued Herr Ebeling, "I would have kept to myself, even after Heuglin had thus expressed himself, had I not since discovered a new authority for it. In the second edition of Dr. Petermann's great book of travels I find the following: "Professor Roth, of Munich, related to me in Jerusalem that the well known Swedish traveler, Hedenborg, made an interesting observation on the island of Rhodes, where he was staying. In the autumn, when the storks came in flocks over the sea to Rhodes, he often heard the notes of small birds without being able to see them; but on one occasion he observed a party of storks just as they alighted, and saw several small birds come off their backs, having thus been evidently transported by them across the sea."—St. Louis Republican.

Candy in Persia.

I don't think you would like it very much. It is made of sifted rice flour, mixed with much sugar and some water until a paste is formed. Then it is pressed and cut into all kinds of shapes, and bestrewed with pistaches. There is not much taste to it. A finer but much more expensive kind of Persian candy is made of wheat flour, much sugar and butter, the ingredients mixed and prepared in such a manner as to be divided into innumerable little particles, each as thin as a hair and which can be bent like one. To pick up a handful of this stuff is like picking up down, it is so light and feels so soft.—Wolf von Schierbrand in The Cosmopolitan.

A Base Hint.

"Good morning, Mr. Dallywag; changing your boarding place again?" "Yes." "What is the matter now? I thought you were nicely fixed." "Well, so I was, but I got a week in arrears on my board and my landlord served me coffee this morning in a fancy cup with gilt lettering on it that read: 'Think of me!' I paid my bill and got out. You bet I wouldn't put up with such base hints for pay as that was."—Chicago Ledger.

"Let Her Go, Gal."

"Is everything in readiness?" said the Boston girl, as she dipped the oars into the water preparatory to taking a row upon the pond.

"All ready," responded the lover who held the boat against the bank.

"Then I presume it is in order to request Mr. Gallagher to release the person of the gentler sex."

So the lover let her go.—Boston Courier.

Collection of Old Almanacs.

The finest private collection of old almanacs in America is said to be owned by one of the justices of the supreme court of the United States. The rarest almanac in the country probably is one published by William Bradford in 1686. It is in the collection of the Historical society of Pennsylvania, and is valued at $550.—New York Evening World.

SONOMA INDEX-TRIBUNE.

H. H. GRANICE - - - - - - - - - - - - EDITOR

SONOMA, JULY 21, 1888.

Communications upon matters of local or general interest solicited.

Communications designed to call attention to any matter of limited or individual interest will not be inserted unless paid for as an advertisement.

The author's real name must accompany all communications, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith. This rule will not be deviated from.

NEW VOLUME.

TO-DAY the INDEX-TRIBUNE is eleven years old. Started in 1877 it has passed through all those vicissitudes of journalism which a majority of country newspapers are bound to experience in their struggle for an existence. Four years ago the INDEX-TRIBUNE passed into the hands of the present management under most unfavorable conditions. It had suspended for lack of patronage after a precarious existence of seven years. The concern had swamped the finances of half a score of ambitious journalists. Professional newspaper men, ministers, printers, professors, college students and lawyers each in turn tried to make the paper a success but one by one were driven to the wall. But notwithstanding these failures the present management stepped in and by close attention to business and hard work has made the INDEX-TRIBUNE a paying institution and one of the fixtures of Sonoma.

To our patrons in town and valley who have aided us in accomplishing this object we shall ever feel grateful, and will say to them that in the future as in the past the INDEX-TRIBUNE will always be found laboring for the general interests of the section it represents.

THAT the Coming Cow of America is to be of Dutch extraction has been foreshadowed of late by the increasing strength of the displays of the Holstein breed at many cattle-shows in this country, and by the growing interest felt in the milk and butter records of imported Dutch cattle. Farmers, and, indeed, all persons who wish to be well informed, therefore, will peruse with attention the article on "Holstein-Friesian Cattle" by S. Hoxie, which appears in Harper's Magazine for August. It sets forth the history of these patient animals, which come of most distinguished ancestry, and recites their excellent qualities as producers of milk, butter, cheese, veal, and beef. As milk-givers they surpass all other cattle of record, and from every point of view are remarkably well adapted to fill the important position they seem destined to take on the dairy-farms of this country. The article is illustrated to show excellent specimens and groups of this breed.

THE following Presidential tickets are already in the field, and it is said there are several parties yet to hear from:

Democratic—President, Grover Cleveland, of New York; Vice President, Allen G. Thurman, of Ohio.

Republican—President, Benjaman Harrison of Indiana; Vice President, Levi P. Morton of New York.

Prohibition—President, Clinton B. Fisk of New Jersey; Vice President, J. A. Brooks of Missouri.

Union Labor—President A. J. Streeter of Illinois; Vice President, Charles E. Cunningham of Arkansas.

United Labor—President, Robt. H. Cowdrey of Illinois; Vice President, W. H. T. Wakefield of Kansas.

Industrial Reform—President, A. E. Redstone of California; Vice President, John Colvin of Kansas.

Woman Suffragists—President, Belva A. Lockwood of Washington; Vice President, Alfred H. Love of Pennsylvania.

The Verdict Unanimous.

W. D. Sult, Druggist, Bippus, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of Rheumatism of 10 years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Bellville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 20 years' experience, is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood. Only a half dollar a bottle at E. VINEYARD AND ORCHARD.

A Plan by Which They Can be Supplied with Labor.

At the regular meeting of the State Board of Trade, Monday, General Manager Brown and Secretary Davies presented the following report and recommendation relative to the labor supply available for the season's fruit harvest:

The grain harvests, the work of picking and packing fruits now ripening in the orchards, and the vintage of the vineyards, will give employment to a large number of laborers in excess of those now offering their services in this work. At the same time a large number of boys from twelve to eighteen years of age and of girls of suitable age to be of service in the packing and drying establishments of the State are idle in the larger cities and towns.

These facts having come to the attention of A. N. Towne, General Manager of the Southern Pacific, the very natural suggestion has arisen in his mind as to whether the labor of industrious boys and girls cannot be utilized in the orchards and vineyards of the State. The very high advantages to all parties concerned from this proceeding will be at once obvious. The agriculturists and horticulturists of the State will be supplied with the labor they so much need, while the boys and girls of suitable age will have their idle time profitably occupied, will be adding to the general wealth of the State by the product of their labor, and will be acquiring habits of industry and thrift. In addition to this it is believed that the introduction of the growing boys of the State to a knowledge of its horticultural industries will inspire in their minds a desire to become themselves horticulturists.

Believing that great good can be accomplished in these general directions, the General Manager of the Southern Pacific Company is willing to facilitate the transportion of boys and girls from the cities of San Francisco, Sacramento, Stockton and Los Angeles to any part of the State where their services may be required, at the very lowest possible rates of transportion and to the end that the exceedingly low rates which he proposes to offer shall be availed of only by industrious boys and girls, who in good faith, intend to perform labor in the country, and will be an aid and benefit to the producers of the State, he desires that the matter shall be under the control of the State Board of Trade and the subordinate branches, and that requisitions for help by those desiring to employ labor shall be made through the local Boards of Trade or improvement associations and sent to the executive rooms of the State Board of Trade at San Francisco, the Improvement Association of Sacramento, to the Board of Trade of Stockton, and to the Board of Trade of Los Angeles, thus keeping under the careful supervision of the State Board and its local branches, the supply of this class of labor above indicated.

The general outline of the suggestion of Mr. Towne is as follows: Requisition to be made on the local Boards of Trade of San Francisco, Stockton, Sacramento or Los Angeles by any one desiring to employ the services of either boys or girls, and such requisition to be forwarded by the local Board to the California State Board of Trade, or the affiliated Boards in the cities named, with the assurance that the employment can be had, giving the name of the employer who makes the requisition. The boys or girls accepting such employment will be forwarded for half the regular fare to the place of destination, and be returned to their homes free of all charge upon the certificate of the employer of the employment in which they have been engaged.—S. F. Bulletin.

About 10 o'clock one evening, at a house just out of town, the domestic detected a boy effecting an entrance through a window. Without raising an alarm, she watched the little fellow, who went direct to a closet, and, taking something from the shelf, was about to make his escape, when the servant arrested him with the plunder in his possession. She had no heart to punish him when she found the object of his burglary was a package of Frese's Hamburg Tea, which he said he had taken for his little sister, who was ill of a fever. She very properly told him he had acted very wickedly. Even if there was no money at home, some kind neighbor would have given him a little Hamburg Tea if he had asked for it.

Children

Often need some safe cathartic and tonic to avert approaching sickness or to relieve colic, headache, sick stomach, indigestion, dysentery and the complaints incident to childhood. Let the children take Simmons Liver Regulator and keep well. It is purely vegetable, not unpleasant to the taste and safe to take alone or in connection with other medicine.

A Valuable Forage Grass.

According to the "Oregonian" sanfoin is the grass for dry or rocky spots. It will survive the coldest Winters, and grow luxuriantly without irrigation, and is relished by cattle. The grass goes by various names, but is best known as sanfoin. It is claimed that it thrives in New Mexico, and grows most luxuriantly all over the hottest and dryest portions of Arizona. Not that it is already spread over the territories in question, but wherever tried, there and elsewhere, in the dry plains and stony ridges of the entire mid-continent, it grows luxuriantly all summer and needs no irrigation or cultivation.

A WOMAN'S WAY.

A Startling Business Proposition.

A little over six weeks ago Mrs. Fowler of 321 Ellis street, San Francisco, stopped in at a leading city druggist's to ask what effect Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, about which she had heard so much recently, would have in cases of dyspepsia and sick headache. She was assured that in most cases it would relieve both. She was, however, so incredulous that finally the druggist gave her a bottle, not to be paid for unless it effected a cure. A proposition so startlingly practical has seldom, if ever before, been made. The following just received is the convincing conclusion, and tells its own story:

San Francisco, February 8, 1888.

DEAR SIR: I write to admit that, notwithstanding my misgivings, Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla did all that you promised. I had tried so many prescriptions, to no purpose, that I had come to believe nothing would relieve my dyspepsia and sick headaches, but I have not had a return of either since I commenced taking it. I believe I am permanently cured, but will, out of an abundance of caution, continue to take it regularly for a while yet. You have my permission to make this public, for it is my belief that a remedy that will cure dyspepsia and prevent sick headaches should be generally known. Respectfully,

Mrs. M. Fowler,
327 Ellis street.

A LUCKY TRIAL.

DEAR SIR: It affords me great pleasure to send you this voluntary statement of my experience in testing the merits of Joy's Sarsaparilla. For the past five years I have been troubled with an exceedingly sluggish liver, and within the past two years it has brought within its trail a thoroughly disordered stomach, including loss of appetite and distress after eating, pains in the back and kidneys, and boils around my neck and face. I have tried several remedies which are advertised as specially for the liver, and never could get more than temporary relief of about a week or two. I was recommended to try a bottle of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla as a test, and while taking the first bottle I became convinced of its merits for I could feel it was working a change in me. I have taken five bottles, and during that time my troubles have left me. Everything is working full and regular, in fact it has cleansed, purified and braced me up generally. I feel like a new man. You are at perfect liberty to use this as you see fit, or you can refer whom you please to

Two Ways. Choose Which.

There are two usual ways of doing what Nature sometimes does incompletely, namely, to relieve the bowels. One is to swallow a drastic purgative which evacuates profusely, abruptly and with pain, the other is to take Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the effect of which is not violent, but sufficiently thorough, and which does not gripe the intestines. If the first is selected the person employing it need not expect permanent benefit, and he cannot hope to escape the debilitating reaction which leaves the organs as bad or worse off than before. If, on the other hand, he resorts to the Bitters, he can only rely upon the restoration of a regular habit of body, consequent upon a renewal of a healthful tone in the intestinal canal. Besides healthfully relaxing the bowels, the Bitters arouses a dormant liver, imparts a beneficial impetus to the action of the kidneys, and counteracts the early twinges of rheumatism, a tendency to gout, and malaria in all its forms.

Peculiar

Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom. Hood's Sarsaparilla Peculiar in its strength and economy, Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which can truly be said, "One Hundred Doses One Dollar." Peculiar in its medicinal merits, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown, and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered." Peculiar in its "good name at home,"—there is more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell than of all other blood purifiers. Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad no other preparation ever attained so rapidly nor held so steadfastly the confidence of all classes of people. Peculiar in the brain-work which it represents, Hood's Sarsaparilla combines all the knowledge which modern research has developed, in medical science with many years practical experience in preparing medicines. Notice to Perpetuate Testimony

In the Superior Court of the County of Sonoma, State of California.

In the matter of the application of ISAAC LIEBES and CHARLES J. BEHLOW to perpetuate testimony.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT in pursuance of an order made by the Judge of the above-named Superior Court on the tenth day of May, 1888, authorizing and allowing the same, the testimony of Mrs. Anna M. Harding, residing in Sonoma County, State of California, will be taken in the above-entitled proceeding before F. Breitenbach, a Notary Public residing in the town of Sonoma, Sonoma County, State of California, at his office in said town, on WEDNESDAY, the 15th day of August, 1888, at 12 o'clock noon and at such other times to which the same may be continued.

The facts sought to be established by the said testimony are as follows, to-wit: That on or about the 22d day of December, 1873, the aforesaid Anna M. Harding, being then the wife of Isaac Harding, purchased of one Jabish Clement for the consideration of four thousand dollars or thereabouts, that certain lot of land in the town of Sonoma known and designated on the official map of the aforesaid town of Sonoma as outlot number (515) five hundred and fifteen. That the said consideration so paid was money which was the sole and separate property and estate of the said Anna M. Harding, and that the said property thereby became, and was at all times thereafter while owned by her, the separate property and estate of the said Anna M. Harding, and that her husband, Isaac Harding, had no right, title or interest in or to the same.

Witness my hand and the seal of the above-named Superior Court of the County of Sonoma, State of California, this 10th day of May, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight (1888.)

He Got Bit!

"I have been bit sending to San Francisco for goods," writes a customer, "but I'll try you once." That is exactly what we want all the readers of this paper to do. Give us one trial. We know but little and say less of other peoples methods of doing business, but we do know—if we know anything—that the way to get friends and customers is to treat them well. We have been doing business

In San Francisco

For many years, and are pleased to say that our sales have increased each one of these years from 20 to 30 per cent; that we now number among our patrons many if not most of the best people all over the coast, and receive thousands of letters commending our goods and prices, and speaking kindly of our method of doing business. We carry the largest variety of goods in town, select everything with care, and sell at the smallest margin of profit consistent with fair trading. What we want is the chance to please you in price and quality, and if we fail we will then give it up. Our price list is complete and explicit. DEATH OF AN OLD CITIZEN.

One by One the Pioneers of Sonoma Valley are Passing Away.

This week it again becomes our painful duty to record the death of one of the advance guard of those sturdy pioneers whose indomitable pluck and energy have made California what it is to-day. On Sunday afternoon last, after a short and painful illness of three days, Wm. Burris died at the old homestead, where he had resided continuously for thirty-six years, respected and honored by his neighbors. Mr. Burris located in this valley with his father-in-law, Colonel Davisson, in 1850, and two years later settled on the farm which has been his home ever since. The deceased was the father of Jesse Burris, cashier of the Sonoma Valley Bank of this place, Luther W. Burris, City Councilman of Santa Rosa and D. Burris of Sonoma Valley. He was a prominent Mason, being a charter member of Temple Lodge, No. 14, of this city, serving as its first Master. His funeral took place last Tuesday, under the auspices of the Masonic fraternity, and was largely attended. He was placed to rest in the cemetery on a beautiful knoll overlooking the lovely and entrancing valley which his footsteps trod in the buoyancy of youth thirty-eight years ago.

Bacon by the Wholesale.

The libel suit brought by George H. Maxwell of this place against H. D. Bacon and F. P. Bacon came up for trial in the Superior court of Alameda county Monday morning on a motion by the defendants to strike out portions of the complaint and demurrer to the complaint. Judge Hamilton denied the motion and over-ruled the demurrer from the bench, giving defendants ten days to answer.

On Tuesday another libel suit was filed in the same court by Mr. Maxwell against H. D. Bacon and F. Marriott of the San Francisco News Letter, asking damages for another $100,000.

Death of a Very Old Lady.

Mrs. Ellen Glynn, for over twenty years a resident of this city, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. Gaffney, last Sunday, from extreme old age. The deceased was 95 years of age, and was born in County Clair, Ireland. She was the mother of the late Michael Glynn. The old lady was buried last Tuesday in the Catholic cemetery and was followed to her last resting place by a large concourse of relatives and friends.

There is some talk of dividing the Dunbar School District, it being entirely too large. Undoubtedly a move in the right direction.

The Santa Rosa and Carquinez Railroad will shortly commence the construction of a section house near the depot.

J. Chauvet has discontinued the water in portions of East Glen Ellen, making things rather ary in that section. OLD TIMER.

Personal and Social.

Mrs. Murphy, District Deputy of the Order of the Eastern Star, paid an official visit to Valley of the Moon Chapter last Thursday evening.

The ladies of Valley of the Moon Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, gave a pleasant invitation social at Weyl's Hall on Thursday evening last. A short musical and literary programme was rendered. At the conclusion dancing was indulged in until after midnight. Ice cream and cakes were served and an enjoyable time was had by all. About seventy-five ladies and gentlemen were present, among them many visiting members of the order.

On last Wednesday afternoon Mrs. C. W. Engelbert gave a very pleasant ice cream social at her home to a limited number of lady friends. After the exchanging of greetings and enjoying social converse the guests were invited to the dining room where they were served with delicious ice cream and a variety of cakes, candy and nuts. After partaking of all these goods things social converse was resumed and kept up until after 5 o'clock P. M., when all departed for home well pleased with the afternoon's entertainment. These socials should be more frequent among our Sonoma ladies as they tend to freshen up the spirits, destroy prejudice and make life seem more bright and sunny.

A wash which will remove the sunburn acquired by out-door sports is made by adding to twelve ounces of elderflower water, six drams of common soda and six drams of powdered borax. Applied to the skin, it will make it as clear and soft as a baby's.

SONOMA COUNTY AT THE FAIR.

The Executive Committee Issue a Circular Letter.

The following letter has been issued by the Executive Committee of the Fruit and Grape Growers' Association of Sonoma county:

SANTA ROSA, July 17, 1888.

The Sonoma County Fruit and Grape Growers' Association, acting in co-operation with the Honorary Commissioners appointed by the Mechanics' Institute, desiring to facilitate the gathering and reception of articles intended for exhibition, offer some suggestion and call attention to some rules governing the Exhibit, as follows:

Be on the look-out to secure anything of interest for exhibition. If there is any doubt as to whether an article would be desirabie or not, get the advice of one of the Commissioners, or write to F. E. Shearer, Santa Rosa, for information. One of the rules of Exhibition contains the following:

Exhibits entered for competition must be in position not later than Wednesday, August 8th, excepting exhibits of fresh fruit and vegetables not in season at the time of opening, or additions to varieties already on exhibition. In either case, immediate notice of new additions must be handed in to the Secretary, in writing.

Articles intended by the exhibitor for competition, but not entered and in position by the time specified, to-wit: Wednesday, August 8th, shall not, under any circumstances, be allowed to compete, except with the written consent of all the contesting exhibitors and the sanction of the Board of Trustees.

All boxes and packages containing articles for the exhibition should be marked, "Sonoma County Exhibit, 23d Industrial Exhibition, San Francisco," and have on it, also the name and address of the sender. A detailed statement of each box or package should be enclosed with the same, or sent separately, by mail or express, to the same address.

The Donahue line and the North Pacific Coast Railroad Co., have, with great public spirit and liberality, agreed to carry all exhibits free of charge.

The Southern Pacific Company has agreed to carry all perishable exhibits free of charge.

Sonoma county can secure the first pemium of $1,000, if the proper effort is made by all her residents.

Last year the opening day was September 2d; this year it will be August 7th. Do not be deceived as to the time. Only 3 weeks remain before everything must be in position. Aim to have all imperishable articles in the building a week before the opening, if possible, to give ample time for their arrangement.

How to Kill a Boom.

There be many ways but the quickest and most certain method is to sit around and talk about dull times, and at the same time, stop advertising in your local paper. You may not think that the advertisements in the local paper are ever read; in fact we have known people, otherwise sane, to insist that every dollar paid out for advertising was nothing more or less than charity; but people who are intending to move to a certain town or place almost invariably send for the local newspaper beforehand. The advertisements are closely scanned, and the disappearance of a firm's advertisement is, by them, supposed to be an equivalent of hard times, or a closure of the business by the Sheriff. The decay of the home paper is the surest indication of the decay of the boom. No thermometer can be as sensitive to heat as is the newspaper to the state of local feeling. Let the newspaper droop for want of support and the boom will droop in direct ratio. If the paper stops the boom is dead. So long as the home paper is handsomely supported the boom is alive and vigorous. By their newspaper shall ye know them.—Citograph.

A Woman's Discovery.

"Another wonderful discovery has been made and that too by a lady in this county. Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. She bought of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night and with one bottle has been miraculously cured. A LAND COMPANY.

Affidavit Making Serious Charges---The History of the Case.

Some weeks ago a complaint was filed in the Superior Court by F. P. Bacon against Geo. H. Maxwell and others, setting forth an agreement entered into by H. D. Bacon, F. P. Bacon and Geo. H. Maxwell and others for the formation of a land company in Sonoma Valley. Under this agreement Maxwell agreed to transfer to the company the bonds held by him on the property now owned by Elizabeth D. Kearney, John Lounibos, John O'Brien and H. E. Boyes, in consideration of 100 shares of the stock of the land company, to be issued to him as full paid-up stock. The complaint charges that under this agreement, Maxwell should have transferred the Kearney, O'Brien and Lounibos bonds to the company and that he had not done so. An injunction was prayed for to enjoin Maxwell from transferring these bonds to any other person.

About the time the complaint was filed newspaper articles were published charging that the Verano Land Company could not give deeds to lots sold by it, because of the action of Maxwell in refusing to transfer the lands of the company, but the complaint showed that the Boyes bond and other bonds on the lands around Verano Station had been conveyed by Maxwell to the Verano Land Company before any lots were sold, and that he not only had properly used the money he had received from his associates but that he had furnished more money than his proportion.

The hearing of Bacon's application for an injunction came up before Judge Wilson several days ago, R. B. Mitchell appearing for plaintiff, and William M. Pierson for the Sonoma Valley Land Company. The application was resisted by attorney Joseph P. Phelan. Judge Wilson decided that Bacon's complaint did not entitle him to an injunction and denied his application.

Another interesting phase of this litigation was developed yesterday, when an affidavit of F. A. Frank of the agricultural firm of Frank Brothers, a stockholder of the company, was filed in the case of D. M. Kent vs. The Sonoma Land Company, in which a default had been entered. This affidavit charged that H. D. and F. P. Bacon, who claim to be the President and Secretary of the company, had conspired together to obtain a fraudulent judgment by default against the company, and that Bacon had advanced Kent money with which to buy up certain claims against the company, knowing that the company was liable thereon, and had caused the complaint to be served on F. P. Bacon, who has his office with Kent, and had procured a default to be entered without affording the corporation or the parties interested any opportunity to defend the action. The affidavit also charged that Bacon had misappropriated the funds of the Verano Land Company in his hands as Treasurer, thereby depriving the company of the means with which to pay its debts and the necessary expense of carrying on its business, beside compelling it to stop all work on the enterprise and to levy an assessment on its capital stock. The application of Frank to have the default vacated and for leave to intervene was continued by Judge Finn, at request of Kent's attorney, until Friday, the 20th inst. —S. F. Bulletin.

County Cullings.

Mrs. Martin O'Reilly, wife of a merchant of Petaluma, died suddenly Sunday morning of heart disease.

Frank Sutherland, a lumberman at Guerneville had his hip dislocated one day last week by a heavy log rolling upon him.

A grass fire in the Rural Cemetery, Santa Rosa, on Monday, burned over several acres of ground and destroyed a barn and outhouse.

Ethel, the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Morrow of Petaluma, while playing Wednesday fell and struck her head on the floor. She died the following morning of concussion of the brain.

John Quinn of Petaluma exhibited signs of hydrophobia last Sunday. He froths at the mouth and barks like a dog and exhibits every symptom of that terrible disease. He was bitten by a dog four years ago.

Dr. Albert Wright, formerly Postmaster at Healdsburg, committed suicide by taking morphine at Seattle, W. T., last Saturday. He left Healdsburg about three years ago and since that time has been conducting a drug store in Seattle.

A Warning.

The modes of death's approach are various, and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from diseases of the Throat and Lungs than any other. It is probable that everyone without exception, receives vast numbers of Tubercle Germs into the system and where these germs fall upon suitable soil they start into life and develop, at first slowly and is shown by a slight tickling sensation in the throat and if allowed to continue their ravages they extend to the lungs producing Consumption and to the head, causing Catarrh. Now all this is dangerous and if allowed to proceed will in time cause death. At the onset you must act with promptness; allowing a cold to go without attention is dangerous and may lose you your life. As soon as you feel that something is wrong with your Throat, Lungs or Nostrils obtain a bottle of Boschee's German Syrup. It will give you immediate relief.

A CASE OF HYDROPHOBIA.

John Quinn Jr., the First Case of the Kind in California.

Word was received in this city last Saturday afternoon that John Quinn, a Petaluma-raised young man, who was camping with a party of friends in Bear valley, Marin county, had been taken with fits and showed symptoms of having that most dreadful of all diseases—hydrophobia. Dr. Proctor was summoned and started Saturday afternoon for Olema, where the patient had been taken. But little faith was taken in the report that it was a case of rabies as such a disease was never known to have occurred on the Pacific Coast. But all doubt was dispelled by the arrival yesterday afternoon of young Quinn in charge of Dr. Proctor. He was brought from Olema in a wagon and was so violent that he was bound hand and foot. An "Imprint" reporter accompanied the doctors to his residence this morning and found him in a horrible state, he was bound to the bed with ropes, his hands and feet being tightly strapped to the bed posts, and then it took the united force of four powerful men to hold him down. He showed all the symptoms of a mad dog, barking, snarling and growling, all the while making frantic efforts to free himself. Hydrophobia is defined by Webster as "preternatural dread of water, a symptom of canine madness, or the disease itself which is thus denominated." As a test Dr. Proctor offered him water in a tin dipper when in one of his violent spells. He shuddered and turned his head from the water and then with a blood-curdling snarl snapped at the dipper of water. His sufferings were frightful to behold. His first words after the dreadful fit was over was a request that his hands be loosened. The request was granted and he said, "Carrie give me a drink of water." This he greedily drank. He recognized different persons in the room and showed where he was bitten by a dog, and in response to a question he stated that he was bitten about five years ago by a dog belonging to Dave Walls, the wound festered and he was sick for several days. He also said that a couple of years ago he was bitten by a sow. He showed those present the sore on his knee, and all the while he was clutching at the spot where bitten as though he was suffering from the old wound. The doctors are at a loss as how to act, as this is the first known case of genuine hydrophobia that has happened on the Pacific Coast. Johnnie Quinn is well known in Petaluma, and his many friends are attending to his wants and doing all in their power to aid him. His parents and relatives have the heartfelt sympathies of our community. No hope is experienced for his recovery as such a recovery has never been known in our country.—Imprint.

An Explanation

What is this "nervous trouble" with which so many seem now to be afflicted? If you will remember a few years ago the word Malaria was comparatively unknown—to-day it is as common as any word in the English language, yet this word covers only the meaning of another word used by our forefathers in times past. So it is with nervous diseases, as they and Malaria are intended to cover what our grandfathers called Biliousness, and all are caused by troubles that arise from a diseased condition of the Liver which in performing its functions finding it cannot dispose of the bile through the ordinary channel is compelled to pass it off through the system, causing nervous troubles, alaria . Bilious Fever, etc. You who are suffering can well appreciate a cure. We recommend Green's August Flower. Its cures are marvelous.

INDIAN GHOST CHARMS.

Diseases Attributed to the Malignancy of Evil Spirits—Propitiating the Ghosts.

The dread of ghosts is common to all the aboriginal races of India, from whom it has been very generally adopted by their Aryan conquerors, and even by the lower classes of Mahometans. All ghosts are believed to be mischievous, and some of them bitterly malicious, and the only means employed to oppose their rancor is to build shrines for them, and to make them offerings of a fowl, a pig, or, on grand occasions, of a buffalo. Any severe illness, and more especially any epidemic disease, as smallpox or cholera, is attributed to the malignancy of certain of these spirits, who must be propitiated accordingly. The man tiger is, perhaps, the most dreaded of all these demon ghosts; for when a tiger has killed a man, the tiger is considered safe from harm, as the spirit of the man rides upon his head, and guides him clear of danger. Accordingly, it is believed that "the only sure mode of destroying a tiger who has killed many people is to begin by making offerings to the spirits of his victims, thereby depriving him of their valuable services."

The ghosts most propitiated are of those who have met a violent or untimely death, whether by design or by accident, including poison and disease. Even women who die in the child bed pang or wretches who are hanged for their crimes are believed to have the same powers of causing evil to the living as those who have been killed by tigers, or by lightning, or by any other violent cause. All these deified spirits are often distinguished by some term denoting the manner of their death; thus, the "Toddy Ghost," the ghost of a man who was killed by falling from a toddy (palm) tree; the "Tiger Ghost," the ghost of a man who was killed by a tiger; the "Lightning Ghost," the ghost of a man who was killed by lightning; the "Snake Ghost," and so on. The ghosts of women who die during pregnancy or in childbirth are supposed to be specially powerful and vindictive. Most of the deceased persons whose spirits are now worshiped were the ancestors of some of the aborigines, and as Gen. Cunningham, the head of the archæological survey of India, says, their worship is generally local, and confined to the limits occupied by the respective tribes to which they belonged.

The ceremonies observed in propitiating the ghosts consist mainly of the offerings of goats, fowls or pigs, as well as flowers and fruits, of the recitation of prayers, and of the singing of certain mantras, or charms, the last being the most important of all. These charms, which are always sung by men at the different shrines, are of two different kinds—the "Sabara charms" (Sabara being the name of one of the aboriginal tribes) and the "mystical incantations." The former are addressed to the deified ghosts of the dead, the performances being generally carried out in the country, or the place where the corpse was burned, and the latter are used for the purpose of compelling spirits to appear and receive the orders of the performer.—London Graphic.

Laying a Railroad Track.

The track of a railway is never done It is always wearing out and always being replaced. Some of the early English engineers, not appreciating this, endeavored to lay down solid stone walls coped with stone cut to a smooth surface, on which they laid their rails. They called this "permanent way," as distinguished from the temporary track of rails and cross ties used by contractors in building the lines. But experience soon showed that the temporary track, if supported by a bed of broken stone, always kept itself drained and was always elastic, and remained in much better order than the more expensive so called "permanent way." When the increase in the weight of our rolling stock began to take place, dating from about 1870, iron rails were found to be wearing out very fast.

Some railway men declared that the railway system had reached its full development. But in this world the supply generally equals the demand. When a thing is very much wanted, it is sure to come, sooner or later. The process of making steel invented by, and named after, Henry Bessemer, of England, and perfected by A. L. Holley, of this country, gave us a steel rail which at the present time costs less than one of iron, and has a life of five or six times as long, even under the heavy loads of today We are now approaching very near the limit of what the rail will carry, while the joints are becoming less able to do their duty.—Thomas Curtis Clarke in Scribner's Magazine.

How to Prolong Life.

We all condemn the suicide, but we fail to see that the voluntary shortening of the natural term of existence is nothing else than slow suicide. Instead of fixing our minds on the infirmities which the old age of an ill spent life sometimes exhibits, and for that reason despising and decrying old age itself, it would be a far more noble and manly course to nourish the natural desire of life, and to strive, in all rightful ways, to lengthen it as much as possible Especially is this advisable because the same course which tends to prolong life also tends to improve and strengthen it.

Activity, without overwork, healthful living, moderation, self control, the due exercise of all the faculties, the cultivation of the reason, the judgment and the will, the nurture of kindly feelings, and the practice of doing good—all things, in fact, which tends to build up a noble manhood—also prepare the way to a long life and a happy and blessed old age.—Home Journal.

Diseases Have Special Seasons.

While it appears from the records of English health officers that some diseases have special seasons in which they are most likely to prevail, it is not shown that occasional variations in temperature have much influence in the matter. Scarlet fever is at its minimum from January to May, and at its maximum in October and November. Diphtheria is more evenly distributed through the year, and is most dangerous a little later than scarlet fever. Measles and whooping cough seem to be somewhat aggravated by cold weather, but are most fatal in May and June. Hot weather is averse to smallpox and favorable to disorders of the bowels, particularly in children.—Public Opinion.

Correct Color for Canaries.

Any canary that allows itself to be born yellow is sadly unfashionable and even vulgar The correct color for canaries to be born is either red or from red down to a light cinnamon color. Longbreed cinnamon fetch the highest prices. It is all a matter of cultivation, and not an easy matter, either, for the reddest parentage is disturbed by the constant hatching of yellow progeny The dark green birds, that were fashion's last favorites, are of no more account than yellow ones now.—New York Sun.

Purify Your Blood.

Bodily and mental health depends upon a healthy condition of the blood. The blood particularly in the spring and summer months, becomes clogged with impurities, which poison it and generate disease. A harmless blood purifier is necessary to restore a healthy tone. The best purifier and tonic known is Swift's Specific (S. S. S.). Of its wonderful purifying and tonic powers we give a few testimonials:

Mr. Wm. A. Siebold, with George P. Rowell & Co., 10 Spruce Street, New York, writes: "I feel it my duty, for the benefit of others who may be afflicted as I was, to write you this letter, which you can use in any way you choose. I suffered great pain from boils, all over my neck; I could not turn my head without acute pain. After trying all the usual remedies, and finding no relief, I used one bottle of S. S. S., and very soon I was entirely relieved of my "Job's Comforters." Now not a sign of my affliction can be seen."

Mr. M. S. Hamlin, Winston, N. C. writes: "I use it every spring. It always builds me up, giving me appetite and digestion, and enabling me to stand the hot summer days. On using it I soon become strong of body and easy of mind."

Mr. C. E. Mitchell, West 23d St. Ferry, New York writes: "I weighed 116 pounds when I began taking your medicine, and now 152 pounds. I would not be without S. S. S., for several times its weight in gold." Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Drawer 3, Atlanta, Ga.

Consumption Surely Cured.

To THE EDITOR—Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above named disease. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy FREE to any of your readers who have consumption if they will send me their express and postoffice address. Respectfully, T. A. SLOCUM, M. C., 181 Pearl st., New York.

Italian Joe had a narrow escape last week on De Long's ranch near Novato. While out deer hunting he ran across a large rattlesnake and shot it, the bullet cutting through the neck, just back of the head and, as Joe thought, killing the reptile. He stooped to cut off the rattles when it turned and struck at him, the nose bumping against his hand, but the snake was to near dead to use its fangs, though Joe was almost frightened into a fit. It had eleven rattles. This is said to be the third rattlesnake killed on this ranch.—Petaluma Courier.

WHY?

WHY do I have this drowsy, lifeless feeling? WHY do I have Backache? WHY Neuralgia and Rheumatism? WHY does Scrofulous taint and Erysipelas show itself?

BECAUSE your blood is filled with Poison, which must be Completely Eradicated before you can regain health. You must go to the root of the matter. Put the Kidneys—the great and only blood purifying organs—in complete order, which is complete health, and with and WARNER'S SAFE PILLS your Cure is Certain.

WHY do we know this? BECAUSE tens of thousands of grateful men and women in all parts of the world have voluntarily written us to this effect.

There is no stand-still in disease. You are either growing Better or Worse. How is it with YOU?

WHY not to-day resort to that medicine which has veritably Cured Millions, and which will cure you if you will give it a chance?

All of Warner's preparations are Purely Vegetable. They are made on honor. They are time-tried. They are No New Discovery, Untried and Worthless; on the contrary, they have stood the test—they have proved their superiority. They stand alone in pre-eminent merit, and YOU KNOW IT.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The treatment of many thousands of cases of those chronic weaknesses and distressing ailments peculiar to females, at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., has afforded a vast experience in nicely adapting and thoroughly testing remedies for the cure of woman's peculiar maladies.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the outgrowth, or result, of this great and valuable experience. Thousands of testimonials, received from patients and from physicians who have tested it in the more aggravated and obstinate cases which had baffled their skill, prove it to be the most wonderful remedy ever devised for the relief and cure of suffering women. It is not recommended as a "cure-all," but as a most perfect Specific for woman's peculiar ailments.

As a powerful, invigorating tonic, it imparts strength to the whole system, and to the womb and its appendages in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine, "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, exhaustion, prostration, hysteria, spasms and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the womb. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a legitimate medicine, carefully compounded by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate organization. It is purely vegetable in its composition and perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system. For morning sickness, or nausea, from whatever cause arising, weak stomach, indigestion, dyspepsia and kindred symptoms, its use, in small doses, will prove very beneficial.

"Favorite Prescription" is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of leucorrhea, excessive flowing, painful menstruation, unnatural suppressions, prolapsus, or falling of the womb, weak back, "female weakness," anteversion, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the womb, inflammation, pain and tenderness in ovaries, accompanied with "internal heat."

As a regulator and promoter of functional action, at that critical period of change from girlhood to womanhood, "Favorite Prescription" is a perfectly safe remedial agent, and can produce only good results. It is equally efficacious and valuable in its effects when taken for those disorders and derangements incident to that interesting and most critical period, known as "The Change of Life."

"Favorite Prescription," when taken in connection with the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and small laxative doses of Dr. Pierce's Purgative Pellets (Little Liver Pills), cures Liver, Kidney and Bladder diseases. Their combined use also removes blood taints, and abolishes cancerous and scrofulous humors from the system.

"Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee, from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.

Large bottles (100 doses) $1.00, or six bottles for $5.00.

For large, illustrated Treatise on Diseases of Women (160 pages, paper-covered), send ten cents in stamps. Address,

World's Dispensary Medical Association,
